

The original Passover was a critical step in the process of moving forward through great adversity¹ to freedom! It was the prelude to an unimaginable adventure, as they ate standing and dressed ready to go²! Just imagine the excitement of this event as they anticipated life in the Promised Land!

What we call the Last Supper was likely first considered as just another routine Passover; but it was actually the First Passover of a new era. When we partake of the communion in memory of the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ, we should consider the power of what is ahead of us. We should go forward with excitement and anticipation to our journey as Jesus leads us to the ultimate Promised Land.
